

SERIES: HOW TO START REPAIRING BROKEN RELATIONSHIPS

Episode 3: "Pie in the Eye"

It's easy to play the blame game when our relationships need fixing, but how often does it get the job done?

	QUESTIONS	NOTES
01	Is it difficult to admit you're wrong? Why or why not?
02 >>>>	What's the most difficult relationship you've had to repair in your life, and what did you learn from that experience?
03 >>>>	How would you define freedom?  Do you believe you can experience freedom in the midst of conflict?  If yes, how so? If no, why not?
04	Can you think of any current relationships where you simply pointed your finger at the other person without looking at yourself? If so, how can you begin to take ownership for your part in the mess?

BOTTOM LINE

Reconciling relationships depends more on us than we care to admit; therefore, the first step is to take an honest look in the mirror.
